CHILLINGWORTH AND KUMALAE

KUMALAE ATTACKS ONE COMMITTEE AND CHILLINGWORTH STARTS AFTER ANOTHER.

The afternoon session of the House yesterday began with a discussion between Kumalae and Chillingworth, over a remark made in the morning by the former, to the effect that a head of a department had said that he would award public contracts as he pleased, without regard to conditions which the legislature might place in the appropriation bills. Chillingworth demanded to know the name of the man who had made such a statement, but Kumalae refused to state who it was. Chillingworth was vigorous in denouncing the statement and branded it as untrue and Kumalae in his reply began an attack on the Health and Education committee, of which Chillingworth is chairman.

Chillingworth interrupted with a point of order, saying that the rules did not allow members to attack committees. "For certain reasons I have refrained from attacking the Chinese fund committee, of which Mr. Kumalae was chairman," said Chillingworth. "It spent $175,—" Here Kumalae interrupted again and Speaker Beckley took a hand, calling for order.

The item of $10,000 for advertising the Territory was inserted on motion of Keellim, by the following vote:

Ayes—Andrade, Aylett, Chillingworth, Gaudin, Hale, Harris, Kalamia, Keellim, Knudsen, Lewis, Nakaleka, Pali, Vida and Wright, 14.

Noes—Damiana, Fernandez, Kaili, Kanibo, Kou, Kumalae, Long, Olli, Pale, Purdy, 11.

The bill passed third reading, and after passing the emergency bill on second reading the House adjourned.

TROUBLES OF THE LEPERS

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW BOARD OF HEALTH DISCLOSES MANY.

The palat supply of the leper settlement, deporting kokua who are not needed and improving the morals of the lepers were subjects which occupied much of the time of yesterday's meeting of the Board of Health. Superintendent McVeigh presented the names of the twelve kokua who he thought were no longer needed. Some were disorderly characters and all were living at the settlement without being of any service. He was authorized to deport them.

The palat trouble was the old story of the failure of Judge Kalua to get shipments to the settlement on time. Dr. Pratt told of wireless message sent to Kalua and a letter was received from Kalua stating that he had only received one message and that the weather was then too stormy to make the shipment. McVeigh said that it was not stormy at Molokai and Dr. Pratt produced a return from the operator of the wireless company showing the delivery of both messages sent to Kalua, by telephone to the lae saloon. Kalua's contract has only one month more to run, and no action was taken by the board.

Superintendent McVeigh submitted a report on unlawful cohabitation among the lepers. He said that many of the guilty parties desired to marry but could not do so on account of having husbands or wives outside the settlement. He recommended that the attorney general bring suits for divorce for such people, alleging leprosy as grounds and said that when such divorces were secured the parties at the settlement would marry. The matter was referred to the Attorney General and S. K. Kane.

A report was received from Dr. Moore on the Goto remedy. Dr. Moore said that it had palliative effects and that the lepers wanted it, and he recommended that a supply be secured. At the same time the doctor did not consider it advisable to use the remedy any more than necessary, saying that it was a proprietary compound and its ingredients were not all known. He recommended that in future its effects be carefully watched by the settlement physician. The report was tabled to await legislative action on appropriations.

ENLARGING BRITISH EMPIRE.

Associated Press, Morning Service.
LONDON, May 13.—British military operations have added one hundred thousand square miles to northern Nigeria.

Great Britain gained her first foothold in Nigeria in 1882, when she issued a charter to a company that took over the trading there. Since that time she has been gradually pushing her way inland from the coast. In 1895 Great Britain bumped up against a portion of Nigeria controlled by the Sultan of Sokoto. This ruler had force enough to keep the British from stepping over his borders at that time and so the latter consented to a simple alliance with him.
